CURRICULAR ASPECTS

In Higher Educational Institutions; curriculum, pedagogy, continuous assessment, and student support are the cornerstones for quality learning. Along with providing suitable resources and infrastructure, such as quality libraries, classrooms, labs, technology, sports/recreation areas and student discussion spaces, a number of initiatives are required to ensure that learning environments are engaging and supportive, and enable all students to succeed.

The College Library has a total of 38,000 books and reference materials. Dspace, a Digital Institutional Repository Software, was installed and uploaded with College and Department Publications. The Maryland Library has a Book Bank for the needy students. Steps were taken to enhance online accessibility of library books and further broad basing of digital library.

Digital infrastructure is one of our strongholds for using digital pedagogy and thereby enriching the teaching-learning process with online resources and collaborations

In order to promote a Green Campus, where environmentally friendly practices are in vogue, this year the construction of a stage was initiated by the College to combine and promote educational and sustainable eco-friendly practices. The Oxy stage is at the end of a green covered tunnel that supports climbers providing a canopy of shade for the assembly of students.

Cultural awareness and expression are among the major competencies considered important to develop in students, in order to provide them with a sense of identity, belonging, as well as an appreciation of other cultures and identities. It is through the development of a strong sense and knowledge of their own cultural history, arts, languages, and traditions that children can build a positive cultural identity and self-esteem. Thus, cultural awareness and expression are important contributors both to individual as well as societal well-being. We celebrated days of national importance in the campus.

SPORTS

Sports and games are creative and mindful expressions of the human spirit which are exhibited through physical activities. Engaging in sports brings out important traits such as a strong physique, team spirit, will-power, sportsmanship, and cheerful nature, a good sense of fair-play and a positive attitude for a successful and a meaningful life.
